The Future.

All have ambition—few are content to sink to the level of the commonplace. All have hopes of a future through which a well-directed ambition will force a successful way.

Self-respect is an element essential to success. We must think well of ourselves, never going to the limit of egotism or deceit. We must think well, act well, appear well.

In the matter of appearance (which goes a long way) WANAMAKER clothing supplies the want of the business and professional man.

The man of honorable labor in the humbler walk of life will find WANAMAKER clothing to be durable and shapely; prices always right.

WANAMAKER & BROWN.

THE CITY HALL.

The Question of Paying Delegates Keenan's Funeral Expenses—Notes.

The legality of the action of the House of Delegates in appropriating $500 toward paying the expenses of the funeral of the late Delegate Charles D. Keenan, has been questioned, and the probabilities are that some legislation may result. The appropriation was made at the last meeting of the House under a provision made for the expenses of the Municipal Assembly, which resolved:

"For salaries of members and officers, $21,000."

"For publishing proceedings, printing and stationery, office expenses, furniture and other expenses, including rent of telephone, $8,000."

The following resolution was passed to bring the proposed expenditure under the head of "other expenses":

"Resolved, That the Clerk of the House of Delegates is hereby directed to pay the funeral expenses of Charles D. Keenan, deceased, late member of this body from the Eighth Ward, out of the fund for expenses of the Municipal Assembly, to the amount of $500."

The following states the stand that they had as much right to consider the funeral of Mr. Keenan a legitimate expense of the House as the engrossing of resolutions and the hiring of carriages for committee work or to take the Delegates to their homes after late sessions.

Some comment has been caused by the fact that Mr. Monahan was in the chair when the appropriation was made and that the funeral was in his hands, most of the money in consequence passing from the City Treasury to Mr. Monahan. Mr. Monahan has since stated that he did not know of the matter. Mr. Keenan had put the funeral into my hands immediately upon the death of her husband, and I did not know of it until I was called to bury Mr. Keenan properly if he did not have a dime, and furthermore I knew nothing of the expense until the resolution was offered in the House and I put the question as I would any other resolution which could come up."

One of the Delegates said that he could express no opinion on the subject as it would probably be referred to him by the committee, so that he could not like to say anything. The Delegates now will have to show that the funeral of Mr. Keenan can be included under "other expenses" of the Municipal Assembly.

The St. Louis Dairy District.

Dairy Inspector Thomas Kaye was at the City Hall this morning and spoke of the dairies in his district as being in a better condition this summer than they have ever been before. The fact that the weather has been cool and rains plenty have put more dollars into the pockets of the dairymen and put stock in a splendid condition. This is shown in the fact that the mortality among cows has been less than half what it was during the corresponding months last year. The rains have kept the grass in a splendid condition, and the grass grows faster than for several weeks past running from six to sixteen inches.

AMONG THE BROKERS.

A Dull Market—Stocks Sold and Prices Obtained To-Day.

Dull as the mining market has been for some time past, it to-day was the dullest on record, every one being apparently ready to sell, and scarcely any to buy.

Golden Era continued to decline with few bids at any figure. Starting with offers to sell at $50, no trade was made until $12 was reached when 100 shares changed hands. The leading stocks of certain companies were sold at $10 per share, but the market is still weak.

It is not nearly certain that if operations are to be continued the mine must be sold. The market closed at $10 bid, the stock being offered at $12.

Pat Murphy opened at $24, 100 shares bringing this price, but soon dropped to $22. It is still dull, and the market is still weak.

* * *

Owing to the improvement in the Black Oak incident to the introduction of water-power on August 1 there was a good demand for the stock in the market, but the market is still weak, lower than $20, at which 600 shares were offered.

* * *

One thousand West Daniels brought 15; Rava was 10 bid, offered at 12½; 12½ was bid for Sydney consolidated; Gray Eagle was 1½ bid, offered at 2½; 2½ was bid, offered at 3½; Silver was 4½ bid, offered at 5½; Buckskin was 10 asked. Concepion was 2½ bid, offered at 3½; San Pedro was 20 bid; Cleveland was 10 bid, offered at 12½; 12½ was bid, offered at 10; Golden Chickens was offered at 8½; Golden Chickens was offered at 8½.

Mr. Brueggemann resides at 2254 Indiana avenue. Miss Gries is a woman of about 25 years of age, and of rather pale complexion, appearing as though she had just recovered from a long illness. According to her statements Brueggemann repeatedly promised her that he would make her his wife, and when she asked him to marry her he replied that he intended to do so.

The marriage of Miss Nettie Bloomberg to Mr. Jas. Farley is announced to take place at the First Presbyterian Church, Wednesday, August 15, at 3 p.m.

Mrs. A. J. Miller Found Murdered in Her House at Wichita, Kan.

WICHITA, Kan., July 25.—The murdered remains of Mrs. A. J. Miller were found at her home in the south part of the town this morning. When found the woman had evidently been dead some time. The body was lying face down and the only clothes on her being a night robe. When a doctor arrived the body was turned over and the doctor pronounced the cause of death to be strangulation. One who had died by strangulation, and a dark blue streak around the neck, was found near the body. The woman was found broken and dismembered in a cottage in which the woman lived alone, is in a lonely spot and some distance from any neighbors. A window was found broken and glass scattered on the floor. The body was found in a room and addressed to Page, a man who lives in the neighborhood, and after saying that the writer had been successful in robberies that the estate could consume and keep him in a water supply fresh and plentiful. The sheds and barns are in good condition for the last two months and are consequently in a fresh and clean condition. The cows are milked on the pastures instead of being driven a half mile or more to the river. The milk is 10 per cent better than it was when milked after the cows have been compelled to walk a long distance. The town of the dairies about St. Louis show that they are in as good condition as could be desired.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 25.—Frank Chapek and Frank Chleboun, who, with John Hronak and Rudolph Sevin, are charged with a conspiracy to blow up with dynamite Judges Gary and Grinnell and Inspector Bonfield, have disappeared, and, it is supposed, have jumped their bonds and fled the city. The case against Chapek, Chleboun and Hronak were continued by Justice Lyon until to-day. The first two named gave bonds in the sum of $5,000 each for their appearance, but Hronak, being unable to procure bail, was locked up in the county jail. The defendants did not put in an appearance. In Justice Lyon's court over the庭, however, he said that he had been advised that the two men had been released on bond by the sheriff. Deputy Sheriff Burke also entered the court-room with capes for the arrest, but he was told that the two men had escaped. The prisoners as soon as they should appear.

It was the intention of the inspector to have the two men held in custody until the trial date set by the court. The two men were held in the Deputy Sheriff's hands. However, the other cases were all disposed of and still Chapek and Chleboun were held in custody.

Bonfield, however, just tried to get away and a young lawyer in spectacles ran around the court-room in a bewildered manner of a way.

The Reason for the Shut-Down of a New Jersey Hosiery Company.

By Telegram to the Post-DISPATCH.
NEW YORK, July 28.—The New Brunswick & New Brunswick Hosiery Co. of New Brunswick, N. J., will shut down to-day for an indefinite period, and 500 men, women and children will be thrown out of employment. The mills are of the largest and oldest in the country, and have been among the most profitable of American manufacturing enterprises. They were removed from Connecticut to their present location in 1852, and from an exceedingly successful position the plant has not been in several times doubled in productive capacity, until now. It includes large brick buildings front four to six stories in height, and covering five acres of ground.

All of this enormous increase has been earned by the business built up in the last three years of its existence. During that period enormous profits have been made among the stockholders, dividends being paid as high as some years as 40 and 50 per cent. D. Carpenter, the President of the corporation, a lifelong Republican of the most radical type, has often said, as far back as the mills went down, that the passage of the Mills bill had so affected trade that they could not find a market for their goods. He has recently declared that if the Mills bill became a law he was in better condition than ever before. Each had a confidence of winning.

THE OWNER OF THE CHAMPION'S CIRCUS REVEALS HIMSELF IN BOSTON.

John L. Must Now "Hustle" for a Living Elsewhere—The Case of Ramsey-Jake Gaudaur Answers Oarsman O'Connor Beating the Betting Law—Sporting Masters—Base Ball Guests.

By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.

BOSTON, Mass., July 28.—After to-night John L. Sullivan will be without a circus, and will once more be left to his own unaided efforts to gain a livelihood. For a time the show was conducted as the Dorris & Sullivan circus. When it came to Boston Dorris retired, and Sullivan took charge of the show as his proprietor. This evening a report that the circus was attacked attracted attention to it for the first time since it opened here two weeks ago.

Investigation revealed that no attachment had been placed upon the property, simply, however, because Sullivan did not have the slightest claim on any portion of it, or have a dollar invested in it. But an owner presented himself as the person of a Mr. Holmes, who had been standing near the entrance to the Louisville Club. Ramsey has frequently heard, says the Louisville Times. His only failing, however, is that he has a taste for brewing. He says he owns a small brewery in Brooklyn after the performance to-morrow evening. It seems that Sullivan has been taken without pay until they became too troublesome. Holmes says the show could have made good to pay with proper management, but he wants nothing more to do with it.

The Havlin-Murphy Mill.

By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.
BOSTON, Mass., July 28.—The training of Frank Murphy, feather-weight champion of Great Britain, for his contest with Jack Havlin is over. Murphy is the champion of the world, and yesterday he came on from Marlboro preparatory to going to a point as near the home-ground as possible.

Havlin is in good shape to-day as he ever was in his life. Havlin to-day said that he was in better condition than ever before. Each had a confidence of winning.

GAUDAUR ANSWERS O'CONNOR.

What the American Ex-Champion Has to Say to the Canadian.

From the Boston Herald.

"I challenged Gaudaur to a race, and he refused to row me, because as Mr. St. John says, I have no reputation. Now I want Mr. St. John to understand that we have a better right to row him than Gaudaur has to row us. Behind me is every dollar behind Gaudaur."

Such were the remarks that Oarsman O'Connor is reported to have made in an interview at Toronto a day or two ago. A Herald representative visited Cambridge at an early hour yesterday morning, and called on the ex-champion to take him to the boat house. O'Connor had to say in reply to them, "I'm not a rower." Gaudaur has been a member of the crew that the real reasons for the shut down were not those given by the captain, but the bad management and a large overstatement of rates.

O'Connor said that the Mills bill would be compelled to close up operations. He reported visited the mills yesterday for the purpose of verifying the exact facts in the case. Statements had been made by persons declaring them self-acquainted with the character and management of the mills to the effect that the real reasons for the shut down were not those given by the captain, but the bad management and a large overstatement of rates.

Mr. Carpenter has been a Republican member of the New Brunswick Common Council, has always taken a prominent part in political affairs, and a member of the committee of the Republican organization and wears the Harrison and Morton label in his button hole. He said that he was not aware whatever in the statement that the mills are compelled to shut down on account of pecuniary difficulties, but that any man looking after, and M. C. would be a good rowing O'Connor or any other man. I would certainly do my best to help him," he said.

He never went in before the mills, and owing to the political campaign with the attendant tariff agitation requiring every year a year's notice to remain open for business. It would make no difference in the change in the tariff was going to effect would be the same.

With a prospect of lower prices in future and rather than go ahead and make a new demand for which there may prove to be no demand, the directors thought preferable to shut down now, and will not intend to be permanent, and we will be able to resume at a day's notice."

THE ZIEFFLE CASE.

Accused of the Persons Who Are Accused of the Conspiracy.

Last night Robert Terry, Sr., John Whitaker, David Goldberg, August Kusner and Mrs. Annie Zieffle were arrested on warrants charging them with conspiracy to defraud the United States Benevolent Fraternity. This is a feature of the Charles Zieffle case. Terry was the President of Washington County U. S. B. F., and proposed Charles Zieffle as a suitable candidate for the organization's presidency. After the Zieffle suit was at that time dying in the City Hospital with consumption. After the initiation in which the real Zieffle was taken from the Hospital to the home of Mrs. Terry at North and Biddle streets. Mrs. Terry was named as the author of the certificate in the Zieffle insurance certificate, and was there named as Zieffle's mother. Zieffle died in 1875, and the suit for his estate was brought to make sure that he was really dead. The disclosure of the corpse was penetrated and a detective was sent to a morgue for the disclosure. As a result evidence was found qualifying the arrest of the persons named for conspiracy. The insurance money had been paid to the widow of Terry, and the widow of Terry of last week Terry was removed from the presidency and charges were preferred against Terry, Goldberg and Whitaker, who were members of the order, for conspiracy. The whole story has been told in the Post-DISPATCH.

King Can Pitch Ball.

Yesterday was the third time that King faced and defeated the Baltimore. Supported by the Toledo team he won the first game, and yesterday he won the second.

He is a good pitcher, and I think he is the best in the league," said King. "I am surprised and derived of the means of making any money and they let me go to jail and don't try to get me out. If they turn me loose so I can get a position somewhere else and earn a living? This will be a lesson to me when I get out I will do what is right."
